

2014 ISAC SRL Leadership Development Program Application Form

The ISAC SRL Leadership Development program is designed to enhance and develop the next generation of emerging leaders in SRL (Shared Resource Lab) operations who will also help further the field of cytometry. New SRL managers with less than three years of experience as manager and deputy or assistant SRL managers with at least 3 years of experience are eligible to apply.

This career development program provides opportunities for leadership training, an opportunity to apply for a mentor training opportunity with another Society member, presentation opportunities, financial support for membership in ISAC (Society) as well as other valuable mentoring activities. In addition, ISAC SRL Emerging Leaders are given the opportunity to be an integral part of the Society through committee memberships, advisory boards, and creating educational material to further support the goals of ISAC. Being chosen an ISAC Emerging Leader is an indication that you are recognized for your leadership potential, technical expertise and ability to achieve your career goals.

This five-year program provides ISAC SRL Emerging Leaders with a complimentary membership in the Society, electronic subscription to Cytometry Part A, and complimentary registration and partial travel funds to attend the Society's annual CYTO conference as well as eligibility for one-time funding of mentored training.

ISAC is seeking SRL Emerging Leaders who are able to demonstrate abilities in education and training, commitment to implementation and development of best practices and vision for the future direction of the SRL membership within the Society and the cytometry community.

Experienced Shared Resource Lab directors and ISAC leadership will review SRL Emerging Leaders' applications. Awards of ISAC SRL Emerging Leaders are expected to be highly competitive and typically will be awarded to the top 10-20% of applicants.
